

Freshwater & Totland Archive Group

What you see in displays and in files is the result of many hours work by Group members.

We aim to scan material as quickly as possible in order to return originals.

Each donor is asked to read and sign the appropriate form and to make any stipulations as to the use of their donation.

Copies of material are then printed off and recorded in an accession book, with each donor allocated an individual donor number.

With each item in the accession numbered separately material is carefully examined for details to be recorded under specific categories onto an Index card then later copied to a data base

To aid this task a time line is continuously added-to with reference points for dating, location etc. The Index card is filed for use at the Memorial Hall as the laptop database is not generally available there.

Currently only basic information can be recorded in order to keep up with accessions; ideally more detail will be added at a later date when hopefully more 'hands-on' members have been recruited. Material labelled with a unique catalogue number is then filed by accession number in cabinets at the Memorial Hall.

Where possible and if appropriate, images are cleaned with items for display captioned, enlarged, printed and laminated.

Copies of material can be supplied for educational purposes or for private research, when a copyright declaration is required to be signed and an appropriate donation is appreciated.

While time is freely given materials are costly, requiring continual fundraising. From car boot sale to local publications, fundraising ideas are always welcomed.

With limited space a great deal of work is carried out in members' homes on personal equipment, with thousands of hours going in to establishing a Group that we hope will be an asset to the community.

What we lack in expertise we make up for with enthusiasm, while what we learn more than compensates for the effort... if you have a 'feel' for local history and would like to learn more do please contact the Group, by email: archiverescue@hotmail.co.uk Web: www.fatag.co.uk Tel: 07511300756
